- Announcements

- Next week, our summer series, Another Kind of Freedom, continues with the theme, Prophetic Witness.
- Summer Clothing Drive is ongoing - bring new or gently used summer clothing items to the security booth anytime! We'll share those with our neighbors as part of Food@First on Sunday, Aug. 16.
- Two save the dates! Sunday, Aug. 9, our LGBTQ+ group is hosting another Book Launch following the service in Shatto Chapel. Our Community Collaborative is also hosting a Summer Picnic in the Amanda Scott Gardens on Saturday, Aug. 29th!
- The NEO Voice Festival will be in residence at FCCLA next week. Their opening concert is on Saturday, July 25th, they will be in the service on Sunday morning, July 26th, and their new ExplOratorio will premiere on Friday, July 31st. Laurel Irene will also perform a special retrospective concert on Wednesday, July 29th. Tickets are on the Resonance Collective website (free with code: FCCLA).
- David's and Laurel's Last Sunday is Aug. 2.
- Thanks to Jaebon! We look forward to welcoming her back on Aug. 9. For the next two Sundays, we'll be joined by Dr. Abe Ross.
- Thanks to the Food@First team serving today from the Forecourt, and thanks to our Gardens team for their harvest this morning.
- Join us for Coffee Hour today following the Service! Also, Good Neighborhood Church has invited our community to watch the World Cup game with them this afternoon on the big screen in Shatto Chapel (pizza and drinks will be served).
- Michael Lehman is out of the service today with the Food@First Team.
