

First Congregational Church of Los Angeles
Pentecost 7
Another Kind of Freedom ~ The Heart of Service
19 July 2026

Preaching: LVF

Worship Leading: Lisa Domke, & Sharon Duncan

Dr. Jaebon Hwang, guest organist

Michael out of the service with Food@First Team

Strips of paper in programs for prayers

Organ Prelude-Concert

Prelude and Fugue in B Major, op. 7, no. 1, Marcel Dupré (1886-1971)

St. Francis of Assisi preaching to the birds, Franz Liszt (1811-1886); arr. Camille Saint-Saëns (1835-1921)

Prélude, Nadia Boulanger (1887-1979)

Grand Chœur Dialogue, Eugène Gigout (1844-1925)

Dr. Jaebon Hwang, Guest Organist

Chiming of the Hour

[Laura center chancel, Lisa and Sharon to lectern]

Welcome

LVF

Words of Gathering

LD & SD

Lisa: Through little acts of kindness – the healing powers that lie within a smile, and the miracles worked by gentle words of praise –
we touch and change the human face of this world.

Sharon: Only by the power of the human heart does misery turn to beauty, despair to new life,
and the killing weight of endless suffering become the freedom of possibility.

Lisa: And life calls us – once more – to celebrate its presence with love, the deep and burning kind of love that costs so much.

Sharon: May we find within our own hearts the power of that love waiting to be spilled freely and lavishly in every place
we might find need.
This world is ours to serve and to heal.

Lisa: May it be so.
May it be so for all of us.
Amen and Amen.

Sharon: Please stand in body or in spirit for our Hymn of Gathering

Hymn of Gathering Holy, Wondrous Mystery, Birthing All Creation NICAEA

- LYRICS \(OW\)
- PDF

Holy wondrous mystery, birthing all creation,
Every day your songs arise from nature's harmony.
Holy, wondrous mystery, breath of our formation,
Source of all life throughout infinity.

Holy wondrous mystery, one in all things dwelling,
Everywhere in everyone you bring divinity.
Holy, sacred presence, loving and compelling,
Living and moving through eternity.

Holy wondrous mystery, darkness magnifies you,
In the darkened depths of soil you root and sprout and thrive
Holy, spacious darkness, moon and sun shine through you.
Stars on your canvas bring the skies to life.

Holy wondrous mystery, birthing all creation,
All your works resound in praise from earth and sky and sea.
Holy wondrous mystery, glorious revelation,
Song of all life throughout infinity.

[Lisa to lectern]

Prayer of Awareness

LD

Please join me in prayer...

O God, in this, our gathering time, may our hearts be open to the stirring of holiness.

May it cause us to know grace and love in those places where seeds of judgment were sown.

May it allow us to soothe our pain-filled memories with peace.

May it help us to experience joy in the divine presence of all our gathered siblings from near and far.

*On this day, as we open our hearts to the stirring of holiness, may we know your grace and love in this sacred space and time - and then - may all people across the world, inhabit these gifts in the days to come.
Amen and Amen.*

[All turn towards choir]

Introit

“Love Is Little” arr. David García Saldaña Cathedral Choir, Miriam Adhonom, Conductor

[Sharon to lectern]

Let us pray together this Lord's Prayer, adapted by enfleshed...

*Creator of us all,
who dwells within and beyond,
Sacred is your name.
May your holy vision for collective flourishing come to fruition among us.
May your dreams of justice, love, compassion, and connection be enfleshed on earth.
Provide us today with what we need to be nourished in body, soul, and heart.
Forgive us for the harm we cause as we seek to forgive those who have harmed us.
Lead us away from everything that destroys and liberate us from the hands of evil.
For you are the ultimate source of hope.
Your power-with exceeds all power-over.
Your presence incites eternal wonder.
All praise to you, our comfort and our strength.
Amen and Amen!*

[enfleshed/adpt/lvf]

[All turn towards altar]

Gloria Deo

Glory be to God, and to the Christ and to the Holy Ghost,
As it was in the beginning, is now and ever shall be.
World without end, Amen, Amen.

[Lisa to lectern]

Passing of the Peace

LD

There is no greater service that we offer than to heal the sick,
to clothe the naked,
to find water for those that thirst, to bind up the broken-hearted – much is asked of us only because we know, in our depths, that we are capable.

As we fill ourselves
with the gifts of peace in this hour, may we also fill our hearts to overflowing with an urgent need to do the work to which we are called.

Together, may we overflow in our zeal for a realm of justice and peace, of equity for all.

May the peace of God be with you.
And also with you!

You are invited to share this ancient greeting with those around you with a bow.

Please be seated

[Sharon to lectern]

Reading from the Wisdom of Our Tradition from Philippians SD

Hear now this reading from Paul's letter to the Philippians...

Do nothing out of selfish ambition or vain conceit. Rather, in humility value others above yourselves, not looking to your own interests but each of you to the interests of the others.

For this witness of the ancients...

Thanks be to God!

[Jaebon short transition Lisa to lectern]

Prayers with the People LD

Invitation to Silence and Prayer

We are held by an awesome beauty.
Above, below, and surrounding us is the constant presence of Life.
It calls to us,
urges us beyond our own understandings of ourselves, places before us images of its own limitlessness,
so that we may see, in its reflection, our own.

In this time of silence,
may we sense the Life we bring to this place,
honor and delight in it, and know it as that within which we find our meaning.

May we find its energizing pull, never coercing, only inviting us to deeper ways of being.

As we share these moments of silence, we are invited to write the prayers of our hearts for our lives and the life of our world on the slips of paper in our programs. If we are online, we invite you to share yours by emailing prayers@fccla.org. Then, as the music begins, we are invited to come forward to share our prayers here in the bowl, and to light candles signifying our prayers, as our collective hopes shimmer in our midst.

Let us now be in silence, together.

[Lisa to seat]

Silence

[Jaebon transition out of silence as people come forward to offer prayers and light candles]

[Lisa center chancel when everyone seated]

Prayer of Our Hearts

Let us pray:

Creator and Creative God, on this day, we long to live in harmony with all creation, to daily find ways to heal our world,
her peoples and all that share life upon her.
For we know that doing so is to participate in your ever-flowing river of healing, is to co-create the universe as you intend it, full of wholeness, justice, and peace for all.

Because of your love, may all that confines and hinders that flourishing within and among us fall away.

Because of your love, empower us to loose ourselves into this life with devotion and desire, that we may find our true selves in service, compassion, and mercy.

Because of your love, may we know the ways that make for peace, in our souls and in this world.

*And then, O God, help love to so inhabit our world, that we will give our lives to its path both this day,
and forever more.
Amen and Amen.*

[richardson/adptlvf]

[Jaebon transition for choir]

Meditation Anthem

“You All Have My Love”

Tanner Pfeiffer

Tanner Pfeiffer, Soloist, Dr. Jaebon Hwang, Piano

[Christoph transition LVF to pulpit, choir to seats]

[Jaebon transition Lisa to lectern, choir to places]

Invitation to Generosity

LD

Each week when we gather, we are reminded that it is in community, we come to understand that the well-being of all life is interconnected.

In this time, we have the opportunity to turn from individualism and self-sufficiency and practice solidarity with one another, in joy and in struggle.

By sharing what we have, striving for collective freedom, and giving and receiving in mutual love, we honor God's intentions for life and create openings for the flourishing we desire.

We show our gratitude for these things, and so much more, by giving from our resources to ensure this community is always and forever, available to all people.

Today, we invite your offerings for our Community Gardens & Urban Farm at the Cathedral, as we continue to grow healthy, organic vegetables, fruits, herbs, and greens that nourish our surrounding communities, to provide educational spaces for five area schools and organizations, and for the fostering of community, spirituality, and reconnection with God's creation.

You will find information for online giving in your programs and on the screen if you are with us online. If you are here in person today, our Hospitality Team will come forward to collect any gifts you'd like to share.

Offertory Anthem

"God, Make Me An Instrument" Cathedral Choir

Roger Holland II

[All turn towards altar]

Doxology

From all that dwell below the skies, let the Creator's praise arise!

Alleluia! Alleluia!

Your name shall sound and praises soar till suns shall rise and set no more.

Alleluia! Alleluia!

Alleluia! Alleluia! Alleluia!

[adapt/Isaac Watts, 1719]

[Sharon to lectern toward end of doxology]

Offering Prayer

SD

Holy One,
Today, we remember all who have brought your gifts to us.

We give thanks for those who cloak themselves in humility, and, who, through their service,
show us a more excellent way.

In these coming days, O God, may we learn from them and may we too, offer our gifts to those who need us the most.

May it be so.
May it be so for all of us.
Amen and Amen!

Sharon: Please be seated

[Laura center chancel]

Life at First Church

LVF

+Next week, our summer series, Another Kind of Freedom, continues with the theme, Prophetic Witness.

+Summer Clothing Drive is ongoing- bring new or gently used summer clothing items to security booth anytime! We'll share those with our neighbors as part of Food@First on Sunday, Aug. 16.

+Two save the dates for you! Sunday, Aug. 9, our LGBTQ+ group here is hosting another Book Launch following the service in Shatto Chapel (expand). And our Community Collaborative is hosting a Summer Picnic in the Amanda Scott Gardens on Saturday, Aug. 29th!

+The NEO Voice Festival will be in residence at FCCLA next week. You have three chances to hear them. Their opening concert is on Saturday July 25th, they will be with us in the service on Sunday morning July 26th, and their new ExplOratorio will premiere on Friday July 31st. Laurel Irene will also perform a special concert on Wednesday July 29th that will be a loving retrospective of her time here in LA. Tickets for all of these concerts are on the Resonance Collective website, and you can get free tickets by using the code: FCCLA.

+David's and Laurel's Last Sunday- Aug. 2

+Thanks, Jaebon! Look forward to welcoming her back on Aug. 9! Next two Sundays, we'll be joined by our friend, Dr. Abe Ross.

+Thanks, Food@First team that serves today from the Forecourt. And thanks to our Gardens team for their harvest this morning.

+Join us for Coffee Hour today following the Service! Also, Good Neighborhood Church has invited our community to watch the World Cup game with them this afternoon on the big screen in Shatto Chapel! Pizza and drinks will be served.

Words of Blessing

LVF

May the Mystery we call God keep alive in each of us
the search for Love that is real;
Love that helps us live more joyful lives;
Love that gives us a fuller meaning to life and the events of life; Love that serves and shares and insists on what might yet be.

*Bring us, O God, the goodness that flows from your heart of Love, and may we be expanded in heart and soul
by that Love.
This is our prayer.*

Choral Response

“Walk Together, Children”
Laude

Moses Hogan

Hymn for the Journey

In the Midst of All Our Living

NETTLETON

In the midst of every blessing, may our hearts be filled with grace.
Streams of goodness, ever flowing call for songs of highest praise.
May our words be filled with gratitude; may our glad hearts humble be.
As a holder of a blessing, may we share it gratefully.

In the midst of every trial, may our hearts be filled with grace.
Streams of comfort, ever flowing, call for songs of highest praise.
May we find the strength within us; may we sense it everywhere.
As we face what must be handled, may we find truth we can share.

In the midst of all our living, may our hearts be filled with grace.
Streams of goodness ever flowing call for songs of highest praise.
May we seek and find encouragement; may our choices worthy be.
As we journey on together, may we know integrity.

-Lyrics by Scott Kearns, 2008, inspired by Robert Robinson, 1758

[Lisa center chancel to say: Please be seated for the Postlude]

Postlude

Nicaea, arr. Craig Phillips (b. 1961)

Dr. Jaebon Hwang, Guest Organist

Inside The Music

We have all come to love Roger Holland's setting of St. Francis' famous poem. Holland is one of those composers who seamlessly integrates multiple musical styles into something new in itself. This piece is distinctly marked by his gospel upbringing, and reaches wider to create a more universal statement of faith. The tenderness of his unison lines unfold into sharp points of harmonic distinction along each of St. Francis' juxtaposed articulations. The real magic of the music comes at the end, though, as the choir is invited to release into their voices and out of their bodies as they sing long, loud, luscious chords until the final moment when the word "peace" releases as if into the atmosphere, our souls at rest. Tanner will sing their "You All Have My Love" today. The lyrics come from a family member for whose funeral the piece was written. Tanner explained to me that: "The opening lyrics are the last words I heard her say at a benefit to raise funds for her cancer treatment; the rest of the text is an expansion of her thought that I thought the family would want to hear." The music swims through key centers in a musical smoothness that I've come to appreciate about Tanner's music. Each new turn is a new moment of expression. Tanner added these words about the piece: "After my cousin Trish was diagnosed with cancer, her Midwestern small town community got together to do a spaghetti feed fundraiser for her medical costs. Near the end of the event, Trish got on the microphone and told us all, "Don't you think for one moment that I don't love every last one of you. There is something in all of you that is lovable and beautiful." At her mother Doris' funeral 10 years before, Trish had asked me in the moment to read the eulogy she had written for Doris, but I shook my head because I was crying too hard. The next best thing I could do was to be Trish's voice at her own funeral after the cancer took its toll. I took her words from the fundraiser and expanded them into this song, hoping to share with her friends and family what Trish would want them to know." I also love about this piece the idea that in sharing love with each other we are charging ourselves up for future service to others who will need that same love.